A great time was had by all. Our next event will be in 2010, so stay tuned for more information on that as we plan for the first year of our new home base in the area around Basel, Switzerland. Cheers! The event was at a small local music venue in Costa Mesa, CA called The Vogue. The event was divided into 2 main sections: 1. The coffee and scone breakfast with music, laughter, and friendship, and 2. The later-afternoon networking. An example of the entertainment was an old-school, very funny, and talented local musician who played songs from the 1950's and 60's. There was also a musical intermission every 30 minutes. The band played covers and originals. I highly recommend this kind of music in the morning. It was energizing, fun, and great for the morning. I could get used to this schedule of events! Here are some pics from the event: My friend Pam Hartman, director of the California Association of Independent Wine and Food Stores, at the event. She's the one with the wine. A solid cup of coffee. The breakfast was a packed, noisy, and fun

Cat is the most popular word processing method used worldwide for education and research. The use of CAT has greatly reduced the need for other methods such as machine translation, machine recognition, and voice recognition. While machine translation still plays an important role, it cannot be used to understand scientific papers or complex technical problems.
